

Important information regarding your privacy and records With Valley TeleCom Group

Customer Proprietary Network Information (CPNI) is your customer information that is not publicly available about your communications services which is protected by Valley TeleCom. It includes the type of phone service you receive from Valley TeleCom, the number of lines, and your call detail records. Valley TeleCom Group may occasionally use your CPNI data to identify additional services that might interest you as new features, technologies and promotions become available.

As a customer, you have the right at any time to restrict (opt- out) the use of CPNI. The services you are currently receiving will not be affected if you opt-out.
